

Summer Series:

Family Engagement for Clinicians

Engaging with a client's family can be more complicated than what you learned in grad school. The UnitedHealth Training Institute at Washburn Center invites you to the first annual Summer Series for clinicians!

This 4-part training series will highlight skills, tools and insights to effectively engage with the diversity of families in our communities.

William D. Allen, Ph.D., LMFT
Owner of Healing Bond

What comes next...Clinical Applications of Cultural Competence Concepts

Wednesday, June 19, 2019
9 a.m. - noon

Judith Hoy, MSW, LICSW, DSW
Professor at University of Minnesota
Clinical Social Work Institute

Engaging Families in Mental Health Treatment: Restoring Balance, Hope and Competence After Trauma

Wednesday, July 17, 2019
9 a.m. - noon

Jenny Britton, LICSW
Director of Children and Family Services at Washburn Center for Children

Engaging Families in their Communities: Top 10 Myths About In-home and Community-based Work

Wednesday, July 31, 2019
9 a.m. - noon

Laine Mohnkern, MSW, LICSW
Mental Health Supervisor at Reclaim

What's in a Name: Current Language and Terminology Use to Support Families of LGBTQ+

Wednesday, August 14, 2019
9 a.m. - noon

Registration information:

$65 per session

10% discount if you register for all 4 sessions

10% discount if you register 4 or more people

Register online:

washburntraininginstitute.org/summerseries

Participants are welcome to join any session, or come to all four! CEUs will be available.